Portfolio description

The primary objective of this portfolio is to achieve a moderate level of capital growth. The portfolio is diversified across a range of asset classes with low-to medium allocation to funds investing in equities (expected to be no greater than 55%) and other risk assets. Target Volatility: 4%-7%

Sustainable philosophy

The ultimate goal of the portfolio is to support more inclusive social and economic development and more sustainable environmental and business practices, whilst generating strong and consistent investment returns. The portfolio will aim to achieve this by investing in a diversified range of funds which include themes such as renewable energy, financial inclusion, education, social housing, climate change action, sustainable waste management and renewable material production.

Monthly investment update

June saw significant central bank activity, with several institutions opting for rate cuts, though critically not the Bank of England or US Federal Reserve. The European Central Bank (ECB) cut rates by 0.25% to 3.75%, though the future path for rate cuts remains unclear. US equity markets continued to perform strongly, driven by tech giants Nvidia, Apple, and Microsoft. Nvidia became the world's most valuable company, contributing significantly to the S&P 500's gains. Apple and Microsoft also posted strong performances, boosting the S&P 500 by 15.3% in the first half of the year. The narrow rally suggests potential growth for other companies in the future. As elections conclude and new governments take office, we expect greater clarity on the political landscape. However, uncertainty remains, especially with the US election in November. In this evolving environment, our focus remains on quality companies capable of withstanding political turbulence. We will continue to monitor these developments closely and adjust our strategies accordingly.
